About International Arbitration Center in Tokyo (IACT)

IACT is a dispute resolution and problem-prevention forum of the highest quality for tech companies. IACT deliver outcomes that were unachievable, by leveraging the insight and experience of the world's most experienced retired judges and distinguished international attorneys from each specialty. We are fortunate to bring this level of expert service through the leadership of Japanese Patent Office and the former chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, Hon. Randall Rader. IACT has been the iconic figure who serve clients in the field of science, technology, and global trade. Our experts have been retained by top innovators across the continents.¹

About IACT Membership for Tech Companies

IACT membership program is developed for stakeholders who own intangible assets such as intellectual property (IP) or those who intend to develop IP strategies. To survive in the world afflicted with information asymmetry, your access to most reliable resources is essential. For new companies, it is difficult to find a right person for their IP issues. Even if you have not achieved the status of industry leader, you will be matched with an expert who can provides a critical piece of advice for big tech companies and IACT members. For example, businesses struggle to establish and protect their brand recognition. Members who have zero knowledge of brand protection will receive step-by-step instructions from our network of brand protection experts. We are able to provide exact assistance that you may be seeking because we have managed a diverse range of problems that technology companies of all sizes frequently encounter. IACT's experts and its affiliates effectively resolve problems that you have – to a degree unmatched by other service providers.

A member can receive the following services:

- Optional matching services. Members are introduced to a candidate collaborator in relevant fields (biotech, material science, pharmaceutical, etc.);

¹ See our website at www.iactokyo.com for the roster of neutrals and IACT's advisory board members.

- Counselling sessions with intellectual property experts. For each session, a member can select one expert from a list of suggested experts; and
- Weakness analysis. Members receive a summary of the areas in which intellectual property protection is inadequate.
